Criminal Activity Disclosure

In order to maintain a safe environment for all members of the university community, Indiana University requires applicants who have been convicted of a felony or who have engaged in behavior that results in injury to person(s) or personal property to disclose this information when they apply for admission. A previous conviction or previous conduct does not automatically bar admission to Indiana University, but does require review. When you apply for admission, you must send complete information by certified mail to the appropriate general studies office. This information includes a brief explanation, location (city, state, country) of conviction or previous conduct, dates, and court disposition, in English. This statement must also give Indiana University permission to access any criminal records.

17. I certify that the information submitted in this application is complete and correct to the best of my knowledge, and I understand that submitting inaccurate and false information may result in denial of admission and/or termination of enrollment at Indiana University.
